

International Prize of Sacred Architecture 2008 IV Edition

The Foundation Frate Sole announces the IV Edition of the International Prize of Sacred Architecture addressed to designers of any nationality, who have realized a religious building within the Christian fellowships during the last decade. Interested parties are kindly invited to send the requested documentation to the following address:

Fondazione Frate Sole – Via Paratici, 21 – 27100 Pavia, ITALY

For organizational reasons no telephone contacts are given.
For any information, please send a fax to fax number +390382301413 or an e-mail to segreteria@fondazionefratesole.org

The submission should contain the following material:

- Name, Surname and address of the designer/s, phone number, fax number, e-mail address.
- A3 format project of the church (plans, views, sections) and denomination and address of where it located. Oversized format drawings will be excluded even if folded.
- Documents or a declaration of the designer that state the beginning of the works after October 4, 1998 and the actual date of completion.
- Color pictures: 5 of the interiors and 5 of the exteriors 20x20 cm format or 20x30 cm format plus relevant color slides.
- Brief illustrative report of the project, written in Italian or English.

It is recommended to send the projects and the pictures of the church in both hard copy and on a CD-ROM.

Deadline to present the material: May 31, 2008 (postmark date). The material has to be sent to the above-mentioned address by registered post with recorded delivery or by using any other shipment service that ensures the advice of receipt of the documents within the deadline. Interested parties is kindly requested to communicate the acknowledgement of the shipment of the material by filling in the form "Confirm your registration" available at the website <http://www.fondazionefratesole.org>. Fill in the form to open an account. The documentation will be kept by the files of the Foundation, which reserves the right to show the works and to use the illustrative and graphic material for publications, being even with the designers.

The documentation presented by the candidates will be judged by the Scientific Commission of the Foundation that will identify the works admitted (approximately 5), then it will be judged by the Judges who will communicate to the Board their evaluations of the single candidates by July 31, 2008.

The admitted candidates will be informed and invited to attend the award ceremony on October 4, 2008, where they are requested to make a brief presentation of their work. The ceremony for the proclamation of the winners and for the prize-giving will be held in Pavia on the festivity of S. Francesco of Assisi – detailed program will be communicated at a later date.

The total amount of the International Prize of sacred Architecture 2008 is 50,000 €, split as follows:

- Winner 25,000 €;
- Second prize 10,000 €;
- Further prizes for a total amount of 15,000 €.
